

Chris Jesse Retires from AIAA

by
Ken Philippart

Ms. Chris Jesse, the Greater Huntsville Section's AIAA Staff Liaison, retired in April after many years of faithful service to the institute.

A member of AIAA's full-time headquarters staff, Chris began her AIAA career in 2005 as the Senior Editor for Books.

In April 2007, she moved to the Membership Department, serving as Manager for Region and Section Activities. It was in this role that Chris began working directly with the Greater Huntsville Section. As the section's Staff Liaison, her responsibilities encompassed the wide range of issues associated with administering one of AIAA's largest sections. Chris was the section's "go to" person on everything from elections to personnel to reports to social media issues. During her tenure, she helped 11 section chairs navigate the complexities of running a professional, volunteer organization. And she did it all cheerfully and with a tireless willingness to serve.

Congratulations and thank you for your service Chris. Enjoy your retirement!
