Recipient of the 2022 Robert L. Sackheim Engineering, Science, & Math Scholarship

The recipient of the 2022 Robert L. Sackheim Engineering, Science, & Math Scholarship is Charles Smith. The $1000 scholarship is given in memory of Bob Sackheim, an industry giant and a former AIAA Greater Huntsville Section Chair. The Sackheim Scholarship promotes careers in the aerospace industry by encouraging students to pursue related engineering or science degrees.

There are many well-qualified candidates who apply for this scholarship each year. All applications are thoroughly reviewed by a panel of judges from our AIAA GHS membership. We commend each of the applicants for their academic achievements and wish them the best in their future endeavors.

We would also like to thank the judges for their time and effort.

2022 recipient: Charles Smith

Mr. Smith, a 2022 graduate of Sparkman High School in Harvest, Alabama, has maintained a 3.88 GPA while playing tuba in the band and serving as stage manager for the theater at Sparkman. Mr. Smith is in Sparkman High School's ACT 30+ Club, the National Honor Society, the leadership team of the Sparkman High School First Priority, and the youth leadership team of the Madison Church of Christ. As an Eagle Scout candidate, he has helped the community through service projects such as building a large deck for a local food bank. Mr. Smith plans to attend Auburn University where he will pursue a degree in aerospace engineering.

Congratulations to Mr. Smith! We wish him great success at Auburn!

Kind regards,
